Overview

The Ralton Australian Shares portfolio is a professionally constructed managed account that invests in mid and large-cap Australian equities the Ralton team assesses as likely to provide investors with attractive long-term returns and, at the time of purchase, are either included in the S&P/ASX 300 Accumulation Index or are one of Australia's largest 300 companies based on market capitalisation.

Investment objective

The Ralton Australian Shares portfolio aims to provide investors long-term capital growth and some tax-effective income from a concentrated portfolio of Australian equities. The portfolio aims to maximise total investment returns from its universe of stocks over five years or more, while at the same time seeking to preserve capital.

Investment approach

Ralton applies a thematic value approach to its investment process believing it provides the best opportunity to capture and take advantage of market inefficiencies through market cycles.

Intensive bottom-up research of target companies is the cornerstone of Ralton's investment process, which it supplements with top-down economic and thematic views. Disciplined and consistently applied, Ralton uses a number of proprietary qualitative and quantitative techniques in its process to thoroughly scrutinise companies so as to uncover undervalued businesses.

Ralton aims to invest in companies with:

- strong and reliable management
- good profit and dividend growth expectations
- reasonably predictable future profits and cash flows, and
- clear business models.

“Our view is that although capital markets are reasonably efficient, the intrinsic (or true) value of a company is not always reflected in the market price of its securities, both in an absolute and relative sense. Through our proprietary and disciplined investment process, we believe we can consistently identify and exploit this mispricing for the long-term benefit of investors.”
